

KNOW ABOUT PrEP

(Pre Exposure Prophylaxis)

PREVENT HIV

PrEP is a pill that can stop the person taking it from getting HIV.

PrEP offers a new option to reduce HIV rates, which remain high.

PrEP is extremely effective at preventing HIV when taken as directed, with few side effects.

PrEP is for HIV negative people who are at high risk of getting HIV.

Is PrEP right for me?
Find out more from www.prep.scot

Taking PrEP involves:

- taking pills (usually daily)
- regular HIV and STI tests

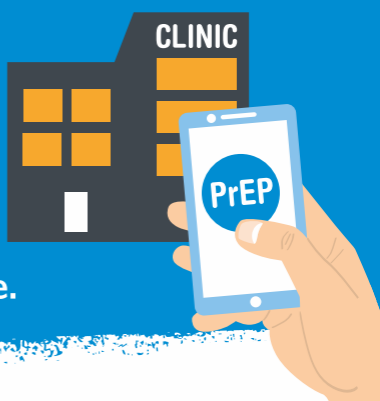

Once the drug reaches protective levels it stops HIV from staying in your body.

PrEP only prevents HIV. Condoms prevent other STIs.

PrEP is available on the NHS in Scotland or it can be bought online.

Different tools work for different people at different times. Choose what works best for you.

Developed by:
Developing HIV Literacy and HIV Scotland

@HIVScotland
@dev_HIVliteracy